PREFACE

“The people of the United Nations have determined” to form the “United Nations” in order to “save future generations from the scourge of war” and “reaffirm their belief in fundamental human rights, the dignity and value of the human person, the equal rights of men and women and large and small nations” and in this way “to create conditions based on which justice and respect for obligations arising from treaties and other sources of international law are maintained and social progress and better living standards are promoted in greater freedom”. In addition, achieving these goals requires practicing tolerance and living together in peace as neighbors and unity to maintain international peace and security as well as promote economic and social progress for all people. Therefore, it can be seen that the United Nations is a tool that pursues lofty goals for all people.

The United Nations is the most important international organization that was formed after the Second World War.

This organization is the most active activist in the international arena and an integral part of our modern life. In
