ASATIR LEATHER

we take pride in using leather sourced from the breathtaking Iran and other parts of world which provide us with unique hides that enable us to establish a sustainable leather value chain.

As leather is a byproduct of the food industry, it is a recycled material and none recycled material that can be repurposed into exquisite and durable end-products rather than discarded in landfills. Whether you prefer a traditional, buttery feel, an incredibly grained finish, or an exquisite luster that enhances over time, we offer a range of options to suit your preferences.
